

We do what we do, and we get what we get, because we choose what we choose

August 5

We think what we think, we feel what we feel, and we want what we want because we believe what we believe. However, we do what we do and we get what we get because we choose what we choose. If a person, can change what they believe to line up with God's Word and then choose to speak and act on God's Word then it will change what they think, what they feel, what they want, what they do, and ultimately what they get in life. Because when you believe what God's Word says and do what God's Word requires then you get what God's Word promises. Decide today that you are going to believe God's Word above your experiences and the circumstances of your life. Furthermore, make a commitment to live your life according to God's Word, making your choices line up with His will. As you do these things, you will find your life changing little by little until you become a reflection and a demonstration of the Kingdom of God in this world.

Prayer for Today

Father, help me today to embrace Your Word as truth. May it change my life in everything I say and do. I choose Your will.
